

ABF PRIVACY POLICY

The ABF currently has no specific privacy policy. It is proposed that the following be adopted as the policy of the ABF.

- The ABF will treat all information supplied by members as confidential and will only be made available to authorised personnel of the ABF.
- Members agree by joining the ABF that their contact details and ballooning qualifications will be made available to all other members by means of an ABF Members Directory which will be published once per year.
- Members may request specific contact details be withheld from the members directory.
- No contact details will be supplied to any organization outside of the ABF.
- The ABF reserves the right to forward information to members on behalf of other organizations where it can be reasonably assumed that information is likely to be of interest to members.
- Any member may opt out of receiving such communications.
